What is the most interesting fact that you have learned from our spider expedition so far? Why?

The most interesting fact that I have learned from our spider expedition so far is that spiders use many different ways of catch

Their prey. Before our expedition I thought spiders catch their prey only with spider webs. Now I know many spiders catch their food in different ways - fishing, hunting, shooting, silk like a lasso, hiding and trapping, camouflaging. All of these ways make spiders unique species.
